PRODUCTION

LUIS MAGAÑA

Host

Luis Magaña has been and continues to be one of the most influential commentators in entertainment from the Latin world. Magaña cements his reputation as an important entertainment correspondent through his effortless, professional communication and the great relationships he holds within the television, film and radio industries. His extensive work history includes collaborating with superstars such as Thalía and participating in several international events as a judge, reporter and ultimately, an entertainment analyst.

Luis Magaña's affiliation with major companies such as Telemundo, Univision, Televisa, Cadena Tres among many others gives greater support and credibility to his contributions in show business.
