

ERICK BENDAÑA

DESIGNER

Hollywood celebrities and a former Miss Universe have been dressed in the brand's designs.

The brand Erick Bendaña has its origins in the country of Nicaragua having served to sever years in the world of fashion. The brand holds over forty-sever international awards and specialized in the designs of both fashion and fantasy costumes. Bendaña has been named one of the most influential fashion designers in Latin America by Forbes Magazine in Central America. Currently, he holds the title of “Designer Of the Year” with the Metropolitan Fashion Week Organization in Los Angeles California. The brand’s fantasy and romance have gained its designer the title of “Prince of designs in Central America”.

DEMO REEL & MORE:

<https://unoproductions.com/portfolio/erick-bendana>

ERICK BENDAÑA has been named one of the most influential fashion designers in Latin America by Forbes Magazine in Central America. Currently he holds the title of "Designer of the Year" with the Metropolitan Fashion Week Organization in Los Angeles California.

His designs, characterized by romance and fine detailing, capture the fantasy of its delicate nature. BENDAÑA is a new and young brand with presence in the USA and Nicaragua. It has successfully projected itself in the most important platforms of the world of fashion.

He started designing since he was 15 years old and is now one of the most distinguished fashion designers in the country. He was born into a poor family in Chichigalpa, studied Marketing and in addition to designing is a professional dancer.

The renowned Nicaraguan designer Erick Bendaña was responsible for making the ball gown that Berenice Quezada wore in the preliminary of Miss Universe and also for creating the one she will model at the final gala, this November 26.

Erick Bendaña, is one of the references of the design of national and fantasy costumes, has won so many national awards and international recognitions, becoming one of the most influential young Latin American designers who is marking his style on the international haute couture catwalks, currently, holds the title of "Designer of the Year" by the Metropolitan Organization of Fashion Week in Los Angeles, California.

Bendaña competed with more than 20 designers from different parts of the world, resulting in the winner of this international fashion design competition, where world-class jurors of the show such as Michael Cinco, a famous Filipino fashion designer; beauty czar Osmel Souza; TV presenter Stephanie Himonidis; among others, he was awarded this valuable title.

The Nicaraguan, originally from Chichigalpa, swept the ARAB Fashion Week 2022 in Dubai and was named as the prince of Central American design, as announced by the most important Arab fashion platform on its official website.

The designer arrived in Dubai, rising with the achievement of being the first Nicaraguan and one of the few Latin Americans who has been present at the ARAB Fashion Week (Arab Fashion Week).

The Nicaraguan designer was appointed director of International Relations of Metropolitan Fashion Week, one of the most important fashion platforms in the United States. Bendaña is the first Nicaraguan to hold this position that will last two years and his mission will be to find designers and emerging talents or talents that are already positioned in the fashion industry such as Michael Cinco and Dolce & Gabbana to have an active participation during the fashion week in Los Angeles.

